Letter of Reference

Peter Scharff and his team from "Kulinarische Kompetenz" performed a dinner event including a live cooking session at Deutsche Bank's Regional Management Global Conference in July 2009. This is an annual, top senior management conference that brings together, by invitation of Jürgen Fitschen, Member of the Management Board, the Deutsche Bank Country Heads from over 64 countries.

For the purpose of the conference, Peter Scharff and his team performed a live cooking and dinner event held on a cruise boat on the river Rhine. The concept was presented by Peter to Deutsche Bank in advance and comments provided by us were seamlessly incorporated in the plan. On the evening of the event, Peter moderated in English the cooking event, which was conducted on several cooking stations on the boat. His team prepared and served creative meals in three courses, which were introduced by Peter and accompanied by the tasting of selected wines presented by two sommeliers. The concept was centered on the creative blend of herbs and spices with traditional German cuisine and wine.

The event was perceived very positively by the Deutsche Bank participants for its creative culinary character, entertaining format and professional delivery. Working with Peter and his team from the planning to the delivery stage was effective and pleasant. Peter demonstrated eagerness to understand and accommodate our needs, as well as professionalism in his approach. His authenticity was also very well perceived by all.

On the basis of our positive experience, we would strongly recommend Peter to prospect events.
